

Inaugural General Assembly of the La Salle Business School Alliance

The La Salle Business School Alliance (LSBSA) successfully held its first General Assembly on January 27, 2025, bringing together business school leaders from across the Lasallian network. The event marked a major step in advancing global collaboration, innovation, and ethical leadership in business education.

The Alliance brings together over 20 business schools as strategic partners to develop high impact projects on a global scale. These projects will focus on developing talent (learners and educators), research, shared infrastructure (physical and digital) and recognition (communication and identity).

Through these projects the Alliance will contribute to delivering the wider Lasallian Mission and look to find sustainable synergies and new opportunities for a better future.

In his opening address, Br. Andrés Govea, President of the International Association of Lasallian Universities (IALU), emphasized the power of collective action and decentralized collaboration: “our strength lies in our ability to empower each institution within our network. By fostering innovation and sharing knowledge, we are shaping a future where Lasallian business education makes a profound global impact”.

Key Announcements from the Assembly:

- Governance Structure Approved - The LSBSA formally established its governance framework, ensuring strategic leadership and regional representation.
