LaSalleOrg Podcast – “Your Podcast, our Podcast”.

Generating new multimedia narratives that link one another as a Lasallian Family constitutes one of the great communicative challenges for the Brothers of the Christian Schools, in accordance with the guidelines of Brother Superior General and the Brothers of the General Council, and inspired by the 46th General Chapter.

In this regard, we are pleased to announce that as of 21 June, 2024 the Lasallian Family will have the LaSalleOrg Podcast, a space that will allow us to share inspiring stories and meaningful experiences around our Lasallian mission, produced by the Institute’s Office of Information and Communication, with the support of the Brothers and Lasallian collaborators of the Generalate.

Beginning this Friday, June 21, the first season will be broadcast; it addresses the theme and content of the most recent Pastoral Letter to the Lasallian Family by Brother Armin A. Luistro, our Superior General: “Finite. Fragile. Free.

The first episode – with which we will initiate this new communication channel – consists of an interview with Br Armin, which will also be available on our YouTube channel (subtitled in Spanish and French). This episode will have three instalments (three parts), with the participation of some Lasallian communicators from Manila.

A new episode will be broadcast every Friday. The first season consists of six episodes that will allow us to relive some of the stories that Br Armin has shared in his Pastoral Letter.

The first season will run until 9 August, 2024. All the contents of our LaSalleOrg Podcast will be available on Spotify, SounCloud, YoutubeMusic, ivoox and Deezer platforms, in the official languages of the Institute: English, Spanish and French.
