Jesus Christ is in the midst of the Brothers to lead us to practice these Gospel maxims in a uniform manner in our Society, so as always to preserve an entire and perfect union among us.

Reflection by Br. Bertrand ONDOUA - Camerun

In the midst of his disciples, Jesus never ceases to invite them to live according to the maxims and principles of the Gospel. Love, forgiveness, humility, justice and charity so that this is not only a personal and community commitment, but also a visible witness in our various activities and in Christian communities.

Unity in practising the teachings of the Gospel is essential if we Brothers and lay people are to remain faithful to our vocation and bear witness to the truth of the Gospel in our relationships with all those who are with us and also with others.

When disciples strive to apply Gospel principles uniformly, it strengthens cohesion within the Christian community and testifies to the unity that Jesus desired among his disciples.
